

This would be nothing new, our appointed "civil servants" giving away our rights to a few corporate interests. DO NOT GIVE AWAY OUR RIGHTS!!! It's not like there's anything worth watching on the television, but to propose a rule like this that is a blatant giveaway to a few large entertainment corporations is beyond the pale, but not beyond the cozy relationship this administration has with corporate interests. I've been completely disgusted by my government, and am working to get rid of the scum running the show.
